Please know that, in recording all the parts of this liturgy — spoken, sung and played — we have carefully observed responsible norms of social distancing.

Please join in reading or singing those parts of the service printed in bold.

The Advent Wreath—four candles (three blue, one rose) in a perfect circle of evergreen symbolizing the eternity of God —helps us to “keep our lamps trimmed and burning” as we anticipate the coming of Christ, symbolized by the large white candle in the center.

Advent Paraments and Stoles were commissioned and made by quilter and artist, Beth Taylor of Durham, NC for the pulpit, lectern, communion table, and stoles for our pastors. The front banners are new this year.

LIGHTING OF THE ADVENT CANDLE

The world says, “All is lost.”

God says, “All is loved.”

The darkness says, “The light is dying.”

The light says, “The fire is catching.”

Fear says, “Cover your eyes and your ears.”

Hope says, “Wait, watch, and listen.”

As we light our first Advent candle,

we pray for holy hope of God.

Come now; O Child of Mary.

Come now, O Prince of Hope.

HYMN 82 Come, Thou Long-Expected Jesus

HYFRYDOL

This hymn is found on the preceding page of this bulletin.

PRAYER OF CONFESSION

Original Dreamer,

Over and over again in scripture,

we hear your dream for a beautiful world.

We hear your dream for peace and reconciliation.

We hear your dream for harmony and togetherness.

We hear your dream for community and hope.

We hear your dreams, and yet we do not open our eyes.

We continue to live with the curtains drawn,

the covers pulled tight,

eyes shut to the realities of the world.

Forgive us. Kindle a hope in us that will burn through the darkest nights.

Give us the strength and the will to keep awake in this sleeping world.

With hope we pray...

SILENT CONFESSION

ASSURANCE OF FORGIVENESS

PASSING OF THE PEACE

CONGREGATIONAL RESPONSE

This is Stanza 4 of Hymn 103, Come Now, O Prince of Peace (o-so-so).

PROCLAIMING THE WORD

PRAYER FOR ILLUMINATION

FIRST SCRIPTURE READING Isaiah 64:1–9

This is the word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

A CONVERSATION WITH YOUNG DISCIPLES

SECOND SCRIPTURE READING Mark 13:24–37

The grass withers; the flower fades—

the word of our God endures forever.

SERMON

This prayer is offered on behalf of the congregation and in the name of Jesus Christ.

It seeks the “illumination” of the Holy Spirit, and calls upon God to help us be open and receptive to the life-giving words of Holy Scripture. This trinitarian prayer is a very important part of reformed worship because of the importance we place on the reading and preaching of the Word.

RESPONDING

Did you notice that the singers now have new masks? These are special masks for singers that have extra filter protection inside the masks and an extended frontal piece. These have been provided to our singers by the Safety Committee.

Use these offertory moments to savor your gratitude for the abundance of God's love — and to consider your own response in loving service. As you consider making your offering, remember that the church's regular expenses continue in these difficult times. And the community around us needs your financial support: your faithful giving is like the breath of life to mission programs we love, neighbors in need, members who are hurting. Thank you for your faithful generosity!

Ways to give: online on the First Pres homepage ... via "Text-to-Give" (855-904-1523) ... use our Give+ app ... put a check in the mail ... or scan the QR code below. (Call Finance Manager Anna Miller if you need assistance.)

HYMN 97

Watchman, Tell Us of the Night

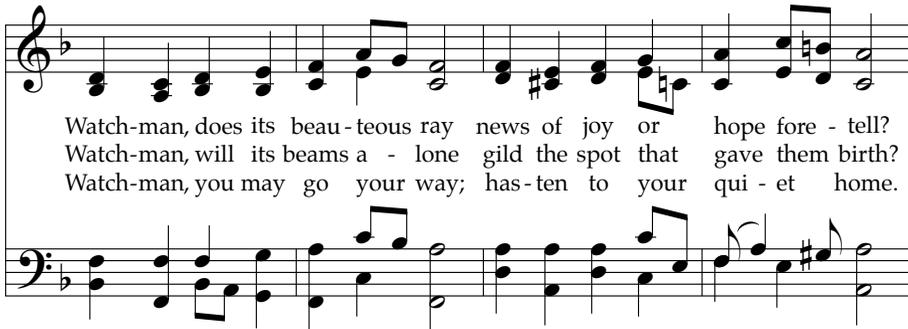

ABERYSTWYTH

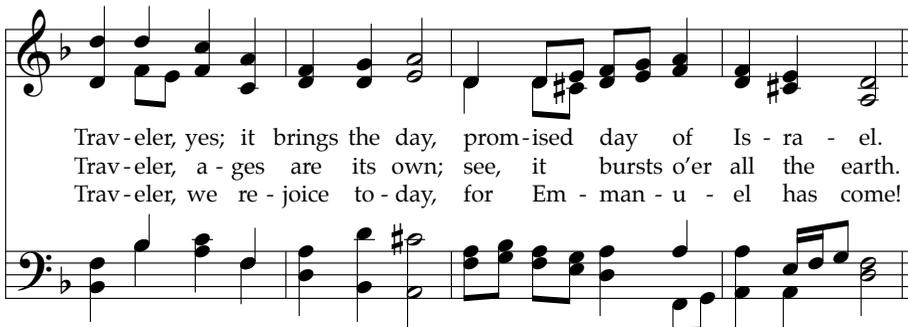

1 Watch-man, tell us of the night, what its signs of prom-ise are.
2 Watch-man, tell us of the night; high-er yet that star as-cends.
3 Watch-man, tell us of the night, for the morn-ing seems to dawn.

Trav-eler, what a won-drous sight: see that glo-ry-beam-ing star.
Trav-eler, bless-ed-ness and light, peace and truth its course por-tends.
Trav-eler, shad-ows take their flight; doubt and ter-ror are with-drawn.

Watch-man, does its beau-teous ray news of joy or hope fore-tell?
Watch-man, will its beams a-lone gild the spot that gave them birth?
Watch-man, you may go your way; has-ten to your qui-et home.

Trav-eler, yes; it brings the day, prom-ised day of Is-ra-el.
Trav-eler, a-ges are its own; see, it bursts o'er all the earth.
Trav-eler, we re-joice to-day, for Em-man-u-el has come!

A word about our Advent theme, “Those Who Dream” —

The season of Advent this year invites us to consider “Those Who Dream” - and to imagine joining them. As we remember this line from the 126th Psalm – When the Lord restored the fortunes of Zion, we were like those who dream... – we contemplate the promise of God’s nearness, the intimations that all is not lost, the signs of the power of love even with so much arrayed against it in this world. Are we dreaming when we imagine, with Isaiah, a world where the crooked way is made straight and the rough way smooth? Are we dreaming when, with Mary, we sing the joy of fulfillment and justice? Are we dreaming when we cry out with John the Baptist for a world without hypocrisy and deceit? Are we dreaming to hope, as Jesus himself taught us to hope, that the poor in spirit are blessed and beloved of God? Even as the cold gathers and the dark deepens toward the Light, we are becoming like those who dream...

Join Rev. Rogers for a virtual Coffee Hour Sunday immediately following the Called Congregational Meeting. For the first 20–30 minutes, we have group conversation, and then we split into small groups. Around 11:15, Coffee Hour conversations end. If you have questions or need help, please contact Rev. Rogers.

Today’s conversation prompt: Who or what gives you hope as we begin this Advent season? Click here to enter Coffee Hour: <https://firstpresbyterian.org/event/virtual-coffee-hour>

Chancel Flowers are given by Bradley Taylor in loving memory of his dear friend Susan Jones Collins; by Burt Voss in loving memory of Jackie Voss; and by Kirk Profit in loving memory of his parents Lewis and Maxine Profit.

A word about the banners from artist Ellen Phillips: The Scriptural passages for the first Sunday of Advent seem particularly appropriate as we near the end of 2020. These words from Isaiah speak just as powerfully to us in 2020 as they did then. Vast areas of our nation have suffered from devastating fires. Other areas have been pounded and flooded by one hurricane after another. People have become more polarized and angry, even to the point of violence. We have all become like one who is unclean, and our righteous deeds are like a filthy cloth. And all across the globe a life threatening virus persists. We all fade like a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind take us away. We no longer can safely come together to worship. Singing together has become a dangerous activity. There is no one who calls on your name, or attempts to take hold of you. It is necessary to hide our faces from each other. Touching and hugging and even shaking hands have become a threat. You have hidden your face from us, and have delivered us into the hand of our iniquity. These days can make us wonder where God is. We know intellectually that Indeed, O Lord, you are our Father; nevertheless we wonder as we contemplate a time we call Advent, Will you keep silent, and punish us so severely? The landscape seems very bleak and that is what I have designed for this first banner. Charred leafless tree trunks, barren rocky soil, and a clouded sky seem to be all that there is at this point. Our constant prayer should be, Restore us, O God of Hosts. Let your face shine that we might be saved.

OPPORTUNITIES TO SERVE

First Presbyterian Church is seeking a Parish Nurse & Wellness Coordinator who values the integration of holistic wellness and faith in caring for our beloved congregation. We invite you to review more details about the job description posted by the Parish Nurse Search Committee (PNSC) on the church website. If you or someone you know has interest in this part-time paid position, please let the PNSC know by submitting your application before December 15. 2020 Family-to-Family Christmas

Every year our congregation generously provides Christmas gifts of food, clothing, and toys for families in the Washtenaw County area. As those who have participated will attest, the act of reaching out to others in need adds a poignant reminder of the meaning and celebration of our Lord's birth. We ask you to consider giving from the heart by participating in the program in any of the following ways:

Adopt a Family. Sign up online to request information on a family to adopt now through December 13. The recommended minimum amount to spend per family member is $30. Once you have received the family information, contact the family to let them know they have a donor, clarify gift needs, and determine a delivery method. We encourage donors to speak with, email, or write notes for their families during this isolating time. Due to Covid-19, all deliveries must be contactless. Delivery options are to: shop and ship the gifts directly to the family; mail gift cards to the family; or arrange a date for contactless delivery of the gifts (leaving them at the door). You may request that a volunteer do contactless delivery of your gifts on your behalf.

Donation. Make a financial contribution of any amount (please indicate Family-to-Family on your check). Your donation will help purchase gift cards for families not directly adopted. Financial contributions are also used to assist families at Alpha House during the holidays.

Volunteer. Volunteers are needed to deliver gifts on Sunday, December 20.

For more information, see the online sign-up link on the First Pres website, or contact Julie Morrison at jdornmorrison@gmail.com or 646-5351.
